

Our rights guaranteed by the constitution should always outweigh the interest of big business